

Sponsored by the Africa Initiative, the Duke University Center for International Studies, the Duke Global Health Institute, and the Program in the Arts of the Moving Image

EBOLA WHAT'S BEHIND IT, WHAT'S IN FRONT OF US?

SEPT 22 – 26, 2014

Monday, Sept 22
Ebola: The Outbreak & the Response***
5:00 pm
217 Perkins Library

Chris Woods
Professor, Duke Global Health Institute and Medicine

Michael Merson
Director, Duke Global Health Institute; Wolfgang Joklik Professor, Global Health

Tuesday, Sept 23
Can Sirleaf Survive Ebola?***
5:00 pm
Mary Lou William Center, Flowers Bldg

Mary Moran
Professor, Anthropology and Africana and Latin American Studies, Colgate University

Wednesday, Sept 24
Desperate People & Circumstances: Are Desperate Solutions Wise?***
5:00 pm
217 Perkins Library

Philip M. Rosoff
Director, Clinical Ethics, Duke University Hospital; Professor, Medicine and Pediatrics

Thursday, Sept 25
Nigeria's First Hand Country Response
12:00 – 1:00 pm
040 Trent Hall
(Live Videoconference Presentation from Nigeria)

Faisal Shuaib
Incident Manager, Ebola Emergency Operations Center in Nigeria

Lunch will be served. RSVP to anna.alcaro@duke.edu

Friday, Sept 26
Screening of Contagion***
7:00 pm
Richard White auditorium (White 107)

(Steven Soderbergh, dir. Cast includes: Matt Damon and Kate Winslett. Running time 106 min)

All events are free and open to the public.

Email anna.alcaro@duke.edu with questions.

Duke University

Center for International Studies

DUKE GLOBAL HEALTH INSTITUTE

Duke UNIVERSITY | Africa the INITIATIVE

*Refreshments will be served